And What Have You

By BOB CRAIG

At first thought, one can not help but wonder what sorry state of affairs our country is in when you think about the armed camp in Chicago, where one of the candidates for president will be selected. But, really, we do not feel that this situation can be blamed on the nation, but rather should be blamed on the people running for this high office.

When you have candidates that speak out against just about everything that this country has ever stood for, it is small wonder that Chicago is full of nuts and trouble makers.

We could only view McCarthy with disgust, when he came up with the statement that Russia was no more at fault for invading Czechoslovakia than we were for invading South Vietnam. McCarthy ignores the fact that South Vietnam asked for our help while the Czechs were trying to get out from under Soviet rule.

One can not help but wonder if McCarthy is really simple enough to believe all that he says, or if he is just trying to buy the peacenik vote. But the strange thing to us is that he already has this vote and should be going after the middle of the road vote instead.

We are afraid that whoever is nominated in Chicago this week will have a rough time in November if they do not divorce themselves from the peaceniks and trouble makers and come out for a semblance of law and order.

As long as the Peace Talks in Paris continue, the war in Vietnam will continue to be status quo and will not be the big issue with the voters in general. But one can not help but believe that the people in the north and east are as sick of disorder and violence as those of us down here are.

While on the subject of the Democratic Convention, we would also add that the national party seems to be hell-bent on forcing the South and Southwest into the Republican party. When they try to throw out duly elected delegates and tell those that they do seat that they can not govern their own method of voting, you wonder just what we are doing there.

We can not speak for other states but we know that in Texas these delegates were selected by the people at the grassroots level and represent the will of our people. When these people from other states say what we can or can not do with our own votes, it just fills you with disgust with the whole situation.

It is fortunate for us that we have a man of such stature as Gov. John Connally on hand up there to fight our battles for us. Otherwise, we would have been sold down the river without a struggle.

Last week we discussed the Electoral College in this space and said that we would look into some of the problems of changing the system. In the first place, this calls for a change usually comes from the outs rather than the ins and therefore does not necessarily mean that the system is bad.

The two major changes proposed are to go to popular vote alone and the other is to divide the electoral votes among the candidates based on their popular vote.

In the first situation you run into the problem of run-offs which could drag out the whole process for at least another month of expensive campaigning and the second situation you run the risk of creating a number of splinter parties.

And in the final analysis, it could be very doubtful if you would be any closer to finding a better solution. It has been only in rare instances that the winner of the popular vote has failed to carry the Electoral vote, so the system may not be as bad as we are sometimes led to believe.

LETTER TO EDITOR

Dear Editor:
Last month for two weeks it was our pleasure to be host on the occasion of the McMurry College Band and Twirling School to over 400 young music students from a wide area and some from your city were in the group. Following this session after dealing closely with these young people I feel greatly encouraged for their generation since almost 100% of these studying with us are clean, ambitious boys and girls.

Your school and community may well take pride in your children if these are a sample. Certainly the reflection from the homes and parents from which they come is splendid. With all the publicity given student demonstrators, hippies, beatniks, etc., it is refreshing indeed to know that the vast majority of our young people are wholesome, cooperative, and eager to learn worthwhile skills.

Modestly, I tell you that in San Antonio last week at the Texas Bandmasters Association convention I was honored as the "Texas Bandmaster of 1968." This honor was great but a greater honor to me is that for 43 years I have been associated with the school band movement in our Southwest and have seen the fine cultural and disciplinary aspects of band membership as it affects growing children.

Membership in a school band can be one of the most rewarding experiences of a growing life. There is a discipline to band (properly taught) that must carry over into adulthood that begets respect for law, respect for property and respect for people. Certainly there are other fine organizations, but to me band is among the greatest.

Your town is to be commended that you provide in your schools the opportunity for your own children to participate in band. Parents who buy instruments and give encouragement to their youngsters to participate fully in this program may be making the best investment possible in their own children.

It was a pleasure to have your kids with us here at McMurry. Their actions tell us you have a fine place for them to live and grow up.

Raymond T. Bynum, Director The McMurry College Band

willingly by others, students filed in Monday morning for a new school year in a new school.

In an assembly Mr. Newberry introduced the faculty and gave a short orientation to all students.

Many organizations have been busy through the summer preparing for the school term. The band has had two weeks of summer band school preparing them for marching and playing. The pep squad has also been working on marching and learning yells. The football boys have been working out in preparation for their first game, September 13.

The FHA Chapter had a watermelon party Thursday in the park for all members. The freshmen played games and sang songs. The first FHA meeting will be Oct. 9.

The student council elected the remaining slate of officers to work with Pat Perrin, president and Gil Lain, vice president. Those elected were Beth Craig, secretary, Peggy Jones, treasurer, and Bill Hodnett, reporter. Beth Craig was also elected secretary for the Oil Belt District of Student Councils, while Mike Young was elected treasurer of the same organization.

Austin — Traditionally Austin has been the headquarters site for Texas campaigns of presidential candidates. But George Wallace's official campaign headquarters (American Independent Party) now is located 49 miles to the south, in New Braunfels.

It was moved from the capital city to within 30 minutes' drive of the office of the party's state chairman, Bard Logan of San Antonio. This move is significant — especially to those 600,000 Texans who are expected to vote for Wallace in November.

When the state executive committee of the American Party decided to replace Miss Jane Sumner of Austin with Jack Zengler of New Braunfels; named Sam Rains of Austin as treasurer, replacing Mrs. Margaret Bacon of Austin, and remore Mrs. Jewell Lemons of San Antonio from the committee, charges of "Birch-ism" were hurled. Miss Sumner ran for Congress on the Republican ticket in 1966 and Mrs. Bacon had served as secretary to Liberal Democrat Franklin Spears of San Antonio during Spears' 1966 bid for State Attorney General.

"It's not the Birch people that are causing the trouble," Chairman Logan says. "It's the anti-Birch people. They were all looking for Birchers when they were getting signatures to get Wallace on the ballot. Now that the job has been done, they seem to want to fight."

Logan said he didn't think the internecine battle would harm Wallace's Texas campaign, and Mrs. Bacon said she still intends to work for votes for Alabama's former governor.

Wallace will be in the state Sept. 16 to speak at a $25-a-plate fund-raising dinner in Dallas on the eve of the American party's Sept. 17 state convention there. He's also scheduled to speak to the convention.

CONSTITUTIONAL REVISION RECOMMENDATIONS

While Texas Democrats are taking a stormy ride in nominating a presidential candidate in Chicago, a potentially historic event will be unfolding on the home front.

In a three-day Austin Meeting this week, State Constitutional Revision Commission is wrapping up its final recommendations for a new Texas constitution.

Sub-committees completed their year-long studies last month.

Fireworks were anticipated on these proposals:

Four year terms for governors and all other statewide officials who now have two year terms (Recommendation would prohibit direct succession to a second term by the governor).

Constitutional change that would also give the governor power to remove and replace appointees to boards and commissions.

A requirement that state senate closed-door sessions on appointments by the governor be abolished.

TEXAS REPUBLICAN PARTY POLITICS — Despite the fact that only two Republican presidential nominees have ever carried Texas, Richard Nixon's chances appear to be as high as 50-50 — depending largely on whom the Democrats nominate.

First successful Republican in Texas was Herbert Hoover in 1928, carrying the state by 367,000 votes to 341,000. Dwight Eisenhower was the only other GOPer to win a majority of Texans, in 1952 and 1956.

However, there are several factors which could shake up

Oak Grove Baptist Church Sets Dedication Service for New Hall

Oak Grove Baptist Church will have a dedication service Sunday at 3 p.m. recognizing the addition of a Fellowship Hall to the church building.

Leading the dedication will be the pastor, Rev. B. C. Freeman. Guest ministers taking part in the service will be Rev. Marshall Stewart, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene; Rev. Bob Sena, pastor of the Mexican Mission; and Rev. Max L. Brown, pastor of the First Baptist Church.

The First Baptist Church choir will present special music. Anthems will also be presented by the Oak Grove Choir.

When Rev. Freeman became pastor Apr. 26, 1967, the building fund consisted of $31.61 and $19 was in the general church treasury.

This past summer the church purchased a building from the Hamlin Schools that was formerly used for the reading center and had it moved to the church site on North-east Avenue H.

Extensive remodeling has taken place with the major portion of the work being done by the membership.

The facility includes the Fellowship Hall, a kitchen, two bathrooms, a women's lounge, a finance room and the pastor's study.

The congregation joins the pastor in extending an invitation to the public to attend the special service. Refreshments will be served in the Fellowship Hall.

The Oak Grove Church was organized in 1920 by Rev. J. H. Herron seven miles from Hamlin at the home of Mr. George Hardy. It was later moved to town, one block north of the present location. Rev. W. C. Samples was called as pastor in 1923.

Souvenir programs for the dedication service have been printed and will be available at the service. The some 40 page publication features pictures of members and former members along with congratulations from Hamlin businesses and friends.

There are 80 members in the Oak Grove congregation.

"Charity" for Aunt Jane?

Arthur took a trip out West to visit his ailing Aunt Jane. Next time he filed an income tax return, he deducted the cost of the trip as a "charitable contribution." Challenged by the government, he offered this explanation in court:

"I made that visit out of the goodness of my heart, to cheer up a sick old lady. I call that charity."

But whatever Arthur called it, the court held it was not charity—at least, not in the sense meant by the income tax laws.

Deduction of charitable contributions (up to a certain limit) has been allowed almost since the income tax began. The idea is that when you make such a contribution, you are not only being generous but also easing burdens that would otherwise fall upon the government.

Therefore, to qualify as charitable, your contribution must be of some public benefit—not just a favor to a particular individual. Usually this means giving to one of the organizations on an approved list, issued periodically by the government.

Typical of approved organizations are the Salvation Army, Community Chest, or Red Cross. But there are plenty of other worthy causes that qualify.

Thus, a donation to an association for the benefit of American Indians was held deductible. So was a donation to an exchange set up for selling needlework done by deserving women.

However, your contribution won't be deductible if the organization merely "sounds" charitable but isn't really.

In one case a taxpayer tried to deduct his gift to a certain church. But it turned out that this particular church was occupied less with saving souls than with running businesses. The court thereupon denied the deduction.

A gift may also be held non-deductible if the organization is substantially involved in trying to influence legislation. For by allowing such a deduction, the government—in effect—could be subsidizing one side or the other of a political issue.

What about a gift to the federal government itself? If given for a public purpose, the gift would indeed be deductible. Obviously, if you donate money to the federal treasury, you are easing Uncle Sam's burdens.

HAVE A NEW GRAND-CHILD? That's news... Call the HERALD.

Take a Second Look

On your first look, you may think that this little girl is riding a rocking horse, but look again. It is not a rocking horse but a little donkey.

About animals now, and children. Donkeys were one of the first animals to be tamed by man, and are gentle animals when they are not practicing the quality of being stubborn.

The quality of gentleness somehow reminds us of our Saviour, the Wonderful One.

Parents, teach your children about Jesus, who admonished us to let the little children come unto Him. Our Lord would remind us that the little ones are precious to the Father. We invite you to take the children to church this week.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

"Whatsoever Things"

By DONALD E. WILDMON
MINISTER
LEE ACRES UNITED METHODIST CHURCH
TUPELO, MISSISSIPPI

Life can always hand out the unexpected. Take the case of Fireman Bill Murray up in Toronto, for instance. He carried an unconscious dog from a burning house not too long ago. Murray later had to be treated at St. Michael's Hospital. For burns? No. Smoke inhalation? No. After the dog revived it bit him on the hand!

Then there is the incident that happened over at Presall, England. The tiny little Lancashire village was finally introduced to the air age. Did they get an airport? Nope. Not even an airplane. A helicopter pilot landed his machine at the local service station, bought two and a half gallons of gas, and flew away!

Then there was the fellow out in Laramie, Wyoming. He decided to use the U.S. Mail to pay his second overtime parking fine. And he had a good reason to use the mail. "God bless the efficiency of the police department," he wrote in a letter accompanying the fine. "I received this ticket while at City Hall paying another." Poor chap!

And the story came our way not too long ago about the fellow who was in the hospital. Seems as though someone wanted to remember him while he was there so they sent him some flowers. His reaction? "Hell," he said, "I don't know why they are sending those to me. I'm not going to die."

Well, we can come up with some good ones sometimes. And you know something? How we react to situations tells what type of person we are. Our actions don't always tell our true nature because most of our actions are planned out in advance. We always make plans to do the right thing or say the right word at the right time if we know something is coming. But our reactions are expressions of our real selves.

Remember the story about the fellow who fell among robbers on the Jerico road? The two fellows who passed by and left him to suffer reacted to what was inside them. It wasn't in their plans, you see, to meet a man in need on the road. And they had things more important to do down the road. They really would like to help, but they just couldn't understand the circumstances. That sounds familiar.

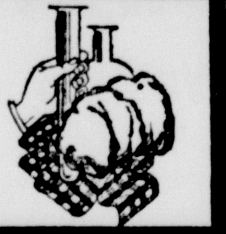

Then the other fellow came along, the man the first two scorned. He had plans, too. But he reacted differently to the beaten man's needs. He canceled his immediate plans and helped the man in need. We are willing to bet that if this Samaritan met someone else along the road, or anywhere else, who needed his help he would have helped them. We also think the first two would have passed by anybody and everybody unless they stood to gain from helping. How we react tells what type person we are.

About the man who wasn't going to die—he was six feet under before a week passed. Sometimes it happens that way. That's the reason it is best to stay prepared—Five Star Features

Cotton Pickin's

ROLLING PLAINS COTTON GROWERS INC.

The big question facing the cotton industry now is whether the present farm program can provide enough cotton, at a fair price, to meet domestic and foreign demand.

That's what Roy Davis, head of the world's largest cottonseed oil mill and President of the National Cotton Council, told area cotton leaders in Lubbock last week.

"We know the program can reduce supplies," Davis said. "Our cotton stocks have been cut from 16.7 million to 6.3 million bales in only two years. Forecasts are calling for another short crop this year, which will likely reduce stocks at least another 2 million bales. The situation is critical. We must maintain adequate supplies of the various qualities, at a competitive price, if we are going to keep our markets."

The Lubbock meeting, designed to bring together government and industry leaders to find new ways to increase cotton exports, was attended by over 400 cotton men from throughout the U.S. On the distinguished list of speakers were: Congressman George Mahon, representatives of the State Department, Commerce Department, Export-Import Bank, Federal Credit Insurance Association, United States Department of Agriculture, Foreign Agriculture Service and Maritime Administration, all of Washington, D.C.

Cotton Producers were represented at the meeting by Rolling Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. of Stamford, Texas; Plains Cotton Growers, Lubbock; South Texas Cotton and Grain Assn., Victoria; and the Louisiana Cotton Producers Assn., Lake Providence, La.

The cotton trade was represented by the executive committee of Cotton Council International and a special export committee from the National Cotton Council.

Cotton shippers were well represented, as were buyers, mills, and exporters. Five major railroads had spokesmen present, as did the maritime service.

Just a few of the tangible results of the meeting were: (1) initiating a pilot test for "containerized" shipments of cotton to Japan and Western Europe. The plan calls for placing 60-100 bales of cotton into a single container that will remain closed from the time it leaves Texas until it arrives at the foreign mill;

(2) a broader use of Export-Import Bank financing accompanied by proper credit insurance through Federal Credit Insurance Association;

(3) two liaison committees were set up: one to develop and disseminate information on the Export-Import Bank and the other on FCIA operations;

(4) preliminary plans were laid for sending a trade mission of cotton producers to visit cotton mills in the Orient early spring of 1969 and for reciprocating visits from the foreign cotton industry to the U.S. as soon as arrangements can be made.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Moore were their children, Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Compton and children of Ft. Worth, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Moore Jr. and Robbie of Midland, and Mrs. Lee R. Howard and children of College Station. All of the children and grandchildren were here except Maj. Lee R. Howard, who is in Vietnam, and Chris Moore of Midland, a grandson.

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Bonds and Stacy of Belmont, Calif., are visiting in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Bonds.

Bottom Defoliation of Cotton Recommended by A&M Specialist

Bottom defoliation of cotton can prove to be worth the time and expense, as it may increase both the yield and quality of the crop, says Fred C. Elliott, Extension cotton specialist at Texas A & M University.

Timing of defoliant application to the entire plant for high yields has to be a compromise between top crop maturity and bottom crop deterioration. Thus, while the top bolls are maturing the bottom bolls may rot, and open cotton will be exposed to four to six weeks of weathering before it is finally picked.

Little benefit is obtained from bottom defoliation if there is a small bottom crop. But in the case of a heavy bottom crop, there is a consistent advantage of preparing for early bottom harvesting, says Elliott.

Best time for application and height of spraying depends on the purpose of the application. Bottom defoliation to prepare for early bottom harvesting should be delayed until 20 percent of the cotton opens and green bolls are firm and mature up to a height of two feet. For boll rot control, the best time is just before the early bolls start to open if humid conditions exist in the lower plant zone. Spray should be confined to the zone of mature, firm bolls.

Speed in rank cotton should be slow, otherwise you will break plants with resulting loss in yield, cautioned the specialist.

Bottom harvesting can be done within 12 to 20 days or as soon as bolls in the treated zone open. Harvesting may be by hand picking or by modification of the picker drums on spindle harvesters so that the undefoliated top of the plant passes through the picker head with little or no damage while the lower spindles pick the open cotton underneath, Elliott pointed out.

Texas Electric Cooperatives Show Concern for Rural Areas At Meet

Efforts to develop the business and industrial, as well as the agricultural, potential of rural Texas received new stimulus in Dallas last week during the 28th Annual Meeting of Texas Electric Cooperatives, Inc. The 700-plus delegates assembled there August 21-23 vented their concern over the loss of rural youth to urban areas and the need to make rural areas more appealing economically to all Texans.

On hand to counsel with delegates and outline professional assistance available were experts in economic and community development, including James Heath of the Texas Industrial Commission, James Bradley of the industrial economics research division of Texas A & M University, Dr. James H. McCrocklin, undersecretary of health, education, and welfare, and Edward Kiley, director of community development for the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association.

Preceding the experts, these five state leaders of Texas youth and young adult organizations expressed their views on opportunities in rural areas today: Cary Reeves of Eustice, 4-H Clubs; Thel Daniel of Spearman, Future Homemakers; Bill Sarpalius of Boys Ranch, Future Farmers; Joe Baker of Marion, Young Homemakers, and Wayne Nelson of Corsicana, Young Farmers.

The experts agreed that extension of electric service into rural areas during the last 30 years had enabled many to stay in rural areas and had attracted others — to operate agricultural, business, and industrial enterprises, or just to live. But, the experts also agreed, the rural leadership represented in their Dallas audience is needed now to develop additional opportunities to assure a prosperous future for rural Texas. And each expert described the professional and organizational assistance available from his development agency or firm.

In addition to the youth organization leaders, other young people participating in the general sessions programs were Murray Edwards of Clyde and Rebecca Ann Letz of Old Glory, members of the 1968 rural electric Government-in-Action Youth Tour to Washington; and Miss Sandra Cole, home service adviser, and Paula Alexander, 11, both of McLennan County Electric, McGregor, participants in Food Fun for Juniors, a summer cooking program for sub-teens.

Judge Thomas Dismisses 11 Suits

Continuing his plan to clean up the docket of 104th District Court at Anson before he retires at the end of the year, Judge Owen Thomas last week dismissed 11 more civil suits for lack of prosecution.

This is the third group of suits which have been dismissed.

Of the 11 suits dismissed last week, 10 were seeking a divorce.

Local Area Chairmen Named For Annual Cattlemen's Roundup

The local area chairmen for the eighth annual Cattlemen's Round-Up for Crippled Children have been appointed by Charlie Morris of Abilene, general chairman.

Named to correlate the work of stockman of this area in meeting the goals of the Round-Up is Johnnie Ammons, Sam Baize, Grover Carothers, Bill Feagan, Dub Harvey, Cecil Sellers, Raleigh Springer, and W. G. Swenson. The Round-Up, to be held September 30 at Abilene's Ranchers and Farmers Livestock Commission, annually raises approximately a third of the non-profit Center's annual budget of some $370,000.

Morris pointed out that WRC officials are looking forward to a particularly good Round-Up this year to "take up some of the slack in our belts." "We stockmen like to think that the WTRC is here for our convenience, because we care enough to support it. The Stockmen of the Southwest haven't ever let us down yet, and we don't expect them to this year."

He noted that construction is now underway on a new $107,000 physical therapy wing for the Center to help meet its current patient load. "The Center just keeps right on growing, and we hope the Round-Up will grow right along with it," he said.

During the Round-Up, stockmen donated livestock of all kinds to be sold at special auctions, the largest one being the cattle sale in Abilene. Persons interested in donating livestock to the Round-Up are asked to contract one of the area chairmen. WTRC officials and volunteer helpers will transport the animals to the WTRC's own pens in Abilene and feed them out until sale time if the donor wishes, Morris said.

Mrs. Ona High Named Christmas Seal Chairman

Mrs. Ona High, Stamford florist, who has been a member of the board of the Jones County Tuberculosis Association for a number of years was selected to represent the association as the 1968 Christmas Seal Chairman. The meeting was held in Stamford August 19 at the Cliff House.

Mrs. Emily Boyd, field consultant for the Texas Tuberculosis Association, was the speaker for the evening. She told members of the board about changes that are in the planning stages of the Texas Association. The association has also changed its name to the Texas Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association. They are not only fighting TB, but other Respiratory diseases, especially emphysema, chronic bronchitis, asthma, lung cancer and cystic fibrosis.

Sleeping Sickness In Horses Found In West Texas

The Texas Veterinary Medical Association, citing findings by a veterinarian in West Texas, reports that equine (horse) encephalomyelitis has been discovered. The cases were reported in West Texas near Seminole by Dr. A. J. Mabry, a large animal practitioner in that area.

The disease, sometimes called sleeping sickness and Bling Stagers, is a virus perpetuated by small birds that carry a high concentration of the virus in their blood. The culex mosquito transmits the disease from the birds to horses and can also transmit it to man. Horses do not transmit the disease the Veterinary Medical Association says.

Encephalomyelitis is often fatal and may cause permanent brain damage to surviving animals. The T. V. M. A. said horse owners should vaccinate their animals and take mosquito control measures. August and September are especially critical months for the disease in all of Texas since high mosquito population is found during these months. Vaccination of horses now and immediate mosquito control measures will help keep the disease from reaching epidemic proportions as was the case in 1967, the Veterinary Medical Association said.

Work Starts Early On Crop Entries In West Texas Fair

ABILENE — Whenever you compete in a livestock show, you don't wait until a few days before walking the animal into the judging arena to begin getting it ready for competition, observes Bernia Reid, a well-known Jones County farmer and swine breeder living near Hamlin.

"By the same rule, we don't wait until the week of the West Texas Fair to begin getting our crop entries ready for competition in the agriculture and horticulture department," Reid said.

The Reid name has long been identified with the breeding and showing of prize hogs in area shows. Son, Mac, who is now associated with his father in farming and swine breeding on their place a few miles south of Hamlin, started winning titles in hog shows when he was a Jones County 4-H'er and later as a Hamlin FFA'er.

But this is concerned with the Reid's preparation for entering exhibits in the 1968 West Texas Fair. The Reids are cooperators with the Crop Committee of the Jones County Program Building Committee in the testing of grain sorghum varieties that are suitable to the area.

They have an excellent demonstration plot, made up of 24 of the older and newer varieties, that was recently visited by a group on a farm tour in Jones County. From this plot will come the heads of grain sorghum that will be entered in the horticulture and agriculture department of the 1968 Fair.

The Reids are already checking the test area for heads of grain sorghums they plan to enter. They are checking their cotton fields and grass plots for entries in the agriculture and horticulture department of the Fair.

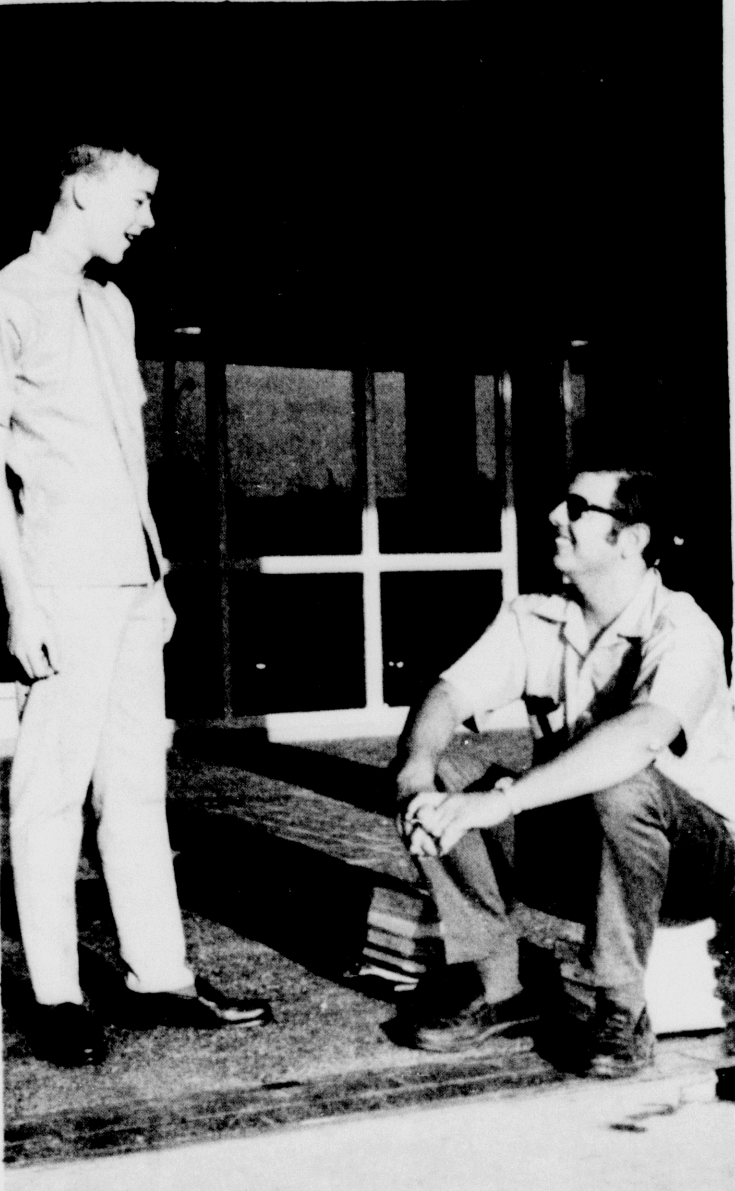

Last year Bernia Reid won four second places, three third places and one fourth place on field crop entries for $11 cash and eight ribbons; Mrs. Jo Reid, the mother, won two first places, two second places,

Dangers In High Moisture In Grain Sighted by Agent

County Agricultural Agent Kirby Clayton cautions farmers against cutting grain sorghum with too high a moisture content, which results in a reduction in price and a heating problem during storage.

The entire process of harvesting, before grain is dry, results in a loss to both the farmer, elevator operator and purchaser.

If in doubt about your grain, cut a small hopper and take a sample to your elevator to have the moisture content tested. You will not be docked at the elevator for this small amount and you will know the moisture content before cutting a truck load.

New WTU Transmission Line In Operation, Will Serve Area

A new 138,000-volt transmission line connecting the Pint Creek Generating Station on Lake Stamford with a new 138,000-volt bay in the Aspermont substation was placed in operation in August by West Texas Utilities Company.

The 40 miles of new line run in a westerly direction from the power plant across a part of both Haskell and Stonewall counties and will bring additional electric power into the areas of Aspermont, Hamlin, and Jayton. The line connects with the company's 69,000-volt system that runs north to Spur, Matador and Clarendon and south to Rotan and Roby.

Construction on the line was started in January and completed in July. It was built by Buck Construction Company of Lubbock under the supervision of Walter Meller, WTU construction engineer. Gene Cochran of Abilene served as line inspector.

The new 138,000-volt bay added to the Aspermont substation was built by the Omega Electric Construction Company of Brady under the supervision of Randal Meador, WTU substation engineer.

The new line is of H-frame construction with crossarms, double static wires and 477 CM 26.7 ACSR conductors with a minimum of 60-foot poles with x-braces.

To build these 40 miles of transmission line it required about 740 poles, 385 cross-arms, 80 miles of shield wire, 415,000 pounds of aluminum conductor, 385 x-braces, and 10,400 ten-inch insulators.

The new Aspermont line is the fourth 138,000-volt line that connects the Pint Creek Power Plant to WTU's 138,000-volt system. One runs north to Munday and the Lake Pauline Plant near Quanah. The other two run south to Abilene with one connecting with the Northwest substation, and the fourth connects to the East Abilene substation.

WTU's Pint Creek Plant has a generating capability of 126,000 KW, and preliminary plans are now being made for the addition of a fourth generating unit scheduled to be placed in operation in 1971. A contract has been awarded to General Electric Company for a 107,000 KW steam turbine generating unit that will increase the plant's generating capability to 233,000 KW.

Neinda Philosopher Says the More He Studies Presidency the Closer He'll Stick to Farm

Editor's note: The Neinda Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Route One reviews the drawbacks of the Presidency this week.

There are times, like when my tractor has a flat and my car battery is dead and a neighbor calls and says my cows are in his field and ruining his crops and it's the hottest day of the year and four weeks overdue on a rain and the kitchen faucet is leaking and the dog tore a hole in the screen door and insurance rates have gone up and farm prices have come down, when I half-way wish I was doing something else besides farming, but after reading the newspapers for the past few months, especially the last few weeks, I have decided if I ever make a change, it will not be to the Presidency of the United States.

The job has been misrepresented. In farming, when you go to bed at night you can generally count on sleeping pretty good till you wake up the next morning, but in the Presidency you never know when the phone will ring at 2 a.m. telling you Russia has invaded Czechoslovakia or Saigon has been shelled again or some nation has stolen another one of our ships.

DPS Warns 46 to Die On Texas Highways Labor Day Weekend

AUSTIN . . . Colonel Wilson E. (Pat) Speir, acting director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, said today the DPS estimates 46 persons may die in traffic accidents in Texas during the Labor Day weekend.

"This is the last holiday weekend of the summer, and thousands of motorists traditionally take to the highways for an outing," Speir said. "It is indeed tragic that so many men, women and children will become victims of motor vehicle accidents during an otherwise happy period," he added.

Speir said the Department of Public Safety will use all facilities and personnel at its disposal in an effort to reduce the predicted death toll. A special "Operation Motorcade" will be activated at 6 a.m. Friday, August 30, and continue through midnight Monday, September 2. During this period all uniformed DPS officers and equipment will be used on the highways to enforce traffic laws.

"Many other groups such as local police and sheriff's department, the trucking industry, and the Jaycees will be cooperating in this effort to promote safe driving during the holiday," Speir noted.

For example, the Texas Motor Transportation Association and its Texas Council of Safety Supervisors will sponsor a holiday road patrol during the Labor Day weekend to assist stranded motorists.

Jack Bryan, TMTA safety director, said some 40 cars marked "Holiday Road Patrol" will be used in the program. These will be manned by the safety directors, safety supervisors and safety engineers of the trucking industry who comprise the membership of the Council. Personnel participating in the road patrol will work as volunteers.

The Jaycees will provide rest stops for motorists in many areas of the state. Texas Safety Association said W. F. (Bill) Leonard will coordinate efforts of over 12,000 Junior Chamber of Commerce members in operating some 200

"rest stops" for serving free coffee to fatigued drivers.

The Texas Highway Department has provided the news media with a bulletin listing all road construction areas in the state.

Social Security Series Shows Investment, Return Over 43 Years

Ed. Note: This is the 2nd of a series of 3 articles on the cost and value of today's social security prepared by R. R. Tuley, Jr., Abilene District Manager for Social Security Administration.)

The preceding article covered the person reaching 65 at the end of this year and retiring after maximum taxes.

What about the young person aged 22, just starting his career of 43 years of work or self-employment before reaching age 65? What will he invest in social security and what will it bring him in return?

Using the current and projected tax rates, the employee will pay in $16,490 toward his retirement benefit at age 65 (or $39,700 if you add 3-3/4% compound interest on the assumption he would otherwise have invested that $16,490 as the months went by). With the average male life expectancy of 13 years at age 65, and with a wife also 65 (81% of men reaching 65 are married), the retirement benefits due him and his wife would total $42,860 — $3,160 more than the value of his social security contribution.

Actuaries state that under the schedule of contributions now in the law, the young worker will get social security benefits worth from 15-20% more than their own contributions plus an interest allowance. It appears rather certain they will get even more, for as wage levels continue to rise income to the social security system increases at a rate faster than corresponding benefit liabilities. Future benefits can therefore be raised without further increasing the taxes.

What else do you buy with your social security taxes? See the third article, soon to appear in this newspaper.

Rebecca Letz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Letz of Old Glory, attended the Rural Electric Co-op Convention held in Dallas three days last week. On Thursday, she and Murray Edwards of Clyde spoke to the Directors and Managers of the individual Rural Electric Cooperatives of Texas.

Thursday evening the group attended a beauty pageant sponsored by the Texas Rural Electric Co-ops.

Attending the convention with Rebecca were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stenholm, Mr. and Mrs. Overton and Mr. and Mrs. Carlson, all of Stamford.

The Adelbert Suter home northeast of Old Glory was damaged by fire last Saturday night. The family awakened to find fire coming from an air conditioner. They were able to get the fire under control, but reported heavy smoke damage throughout the house.

Rainfall in Old Glory amounted to about .80 inch Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Vanderworth of Denver, Colo., have been here visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Letz and Mrs. Oscar Vanderworth. They have also gone to San Antonio and Houston to visit friends and relatives there. They will return here the later part of the week. Their daughter, Ann, will join them here. Michael, their son, has been here several weeks visiting his grandparents. The Vanderworths have recently moved to Denver, from Saskatoon, Sask., Canada, where they had been living for about two years.

Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Flowers visited in the home of her sister, the J. C. Kings, also in the home of the J. D. Fuqua's in San Angelo last week. They attended the ice capades while there. Mrs. King returned home with them on Saturday and is visiting with relatives in Stamford.

YEARS AGO--

51 YEARS AGO

(August 31, 1917)

At a largely attended meeting of Jones County farmers held in Anson last Saturday, the sentiment was strong, that this county would do all she possibly could do to work out her own problems in the present situation and not ask for state assistance.

The Baptist meeting at Plasterco, which had been running 12 days, closed Monday night with good results and a fine interest to the last. There were 14 conversions and several reclaimed. The people of the community are of a good kind and we look for a splendid outcome. Rev. J. T. Nicholson.

Rev. D. M. Douthitt will preach at the Central Christian Church Sunday at 11 a.m. and at 8 p.m. Everybody is cordially invited to be present.

We are informed that the high power transmission line being built in to Hamlin will arrive here and be ready for service about Oct. 1. This is about one month later than expected but the company has had trouble in getting material on the ground, hence the delay. It is a fine piece of work and will be highly appreciated by the Hamlin people.

W. B. Fletcher, manager of Hamlin Light, Power & Ice Co. spent this week in Dallas attending a meeting of the managers for the American Public Service Company.

We are glad to state that Elmer Feagan has been appointed as cashier for the local ice company. Mr. Fletcher and Mr. Feagan are good business men and the people of Hamlin are pleased to have them in these important places.

At a recent meeting of the School Board the following assignments of teachers for the session of 1917-18 were made:

C. D. Eaves of Cameron, Superintendent -- Mathematics; W. E. Routh, principal -- Science and History; Mrs. W. E. Routh, Latin and English; Miss Inys Whitesides of Denton -- German and English; Intermediate Department -- Miss Stella Thurman -- Seventh Grade; Mrs. Byrd Creekmore -- Sixth Grade; Miss Jewel Ganaway -- Fifth Grade; Miss Minnie Mae King -- Fourth Grade.

Primary Department -- Miss Lillian Bond -- Third Grade; Miss Alma Shaw of Pilot Point, Second Grade; Miss Zeila Mae Cornelius -- High First Grade; Miss Eunice Edwards -- Low First Grade.

School starts Monday and will continue free as long as the funds will permit.

That Hamlin will get cotton this year in spite of the prolonged drought, was proven Wednesday when J. F. Tidwell one of the best farmers in Jones County drove into town with a new bale of cotton. Mr. Tidwell lives near Neinda. The bale was ginned by Pioneer Gin.

Thursday the second bale was brought in by H. S. Smith, a hustling farmer living 10 miles east of Hamlin. This bale was ginned by the Coshby gin.

25 YEARS AGO

(August 27, 1943)

The Hamlin Schools will begin registration of pupils on Monday, September 6th. All Elementary pupils will register Monday morning, and will be issued their books, and will be dismissed before noon. They will report for regular classes on Tuesday morning at 9:45.

High school students will register Monday and Tuesday.

The local Church of Christ is in the midst of a fine Gospel meeting which began Sunday, August 22, and will continue through the remaining days of August. Brother Cornelius C. Abbott of Chickasha, Okla., is the evangelist for the occasion.

Thursday evening, August 19th, the McCauley Home Demonstration club women held their annual picnic under the tabernacle, complimentary to their husbands.

The young people of the Mt. Zion Community enjoyed an old fashioned hay ride Friday night. The wagon and tractor used were furnished by Coy Thompson who was also the chaperon. They went to Rotan and the means of travel was slow but fun. They like to think that they were helping save gasoline and tires in their own small way. Of course, the tractor had tires and took gasoline to run it, but it would have taken more than one car to have carried eighteen people.

It is a general rule for the young people of Mt. Zion to gather at someone's home every Sunday afternoon, so that they will not go some distant place that will take the use of too much gasoline and make too much wear on the tires. We must entertain even though there is a war on. Sunday afternoon we went to the home of Adelle, Kay and Doll Thompson. Games, songs and music were enjoyed by all.

10 YEARS AGO

(August 28, 1958)

More than $275 was raised last Tuesday in the Tag Day campaign for the Harden Memorial Library, according to officials of the Hamlin Women's Forum, sponsoring organization.

A concerted drive in the business and residential sections of the city were conducted by affiliating women's clubs of the forum, under the direction of Mrs. L. C. Bonds, Mrs. Dean Witt and Mrs. Earl Smith, chairmen of the committees in charge of the Tag Day event.

Nearly 500 employees of the Celotex Corporation plant at Hamlin and members of their families enjoyed an all-day picnic and outing Saturday at the City Park. It is an annual get-together for the group, sponsored by the public relations department of the concern.

More than 100 members of the Hamlin Lions and Rotary Clubs and their ladies enjoyed two hours of feasting and fellowship Tuesday evening at the Hamlin City Park.

The Lions had invited the Rotarians to share the picnic project with them, and neither civic club met in regular noon luncheon session this week in view of the picnic.

Steaming hot barbecue and all the trimmings were served to the group of men and women by a San Angelo catering service.

Ginger Rabjohn, president of the Hamlin High School chapter of the Future Homemakers of America, and an official in the state FHA organization, attended a meeting of the state executive council of the Texas Association of Future Homemakers of America this week in Austin.

She was accompanied by Mrs. Camille Simmons, instructor of the homemaking department of Hamlin High School.

Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Holt and James visited with her mother, Mrs. A. M. Coplen, and other relatives in McCamey this weekend.
